News Letter, informing you of special events, activities, and specials on the Heartland Flyer and other Amtrak trains through out the United States and Canada.

Accessible Services

The Heartland Flyer and all Amtrak trains have at least one coach car providing accessible seating and an accessible restroom. In addition, food and beverages can be delivered to you by an on-board crew member. Accessible seating includes space for a passenger using a wheelchair, a transfer seat and storage for the wheelchair.

Amtrak trains can accommodate most wheelchairs in use today, provided they meet the ADA definition of a "common" wheelchair -- up to 30 inches wide by 48 inches long (76 by 122 cm.), both manually operated and battery powered.

Passengers using common wheelchairs, including battery-operated chairs, can remain in their wheelchairs enroute. If you choose to transfer to a seat, power chairs can be checked as baggage, and manual chairs can be stowed in the car or as baggage. For passengers who do not require their wheelchairs while on the train, Amtrak's baggage service will accept manual and battery-operated wheelchairs.

The assistance you may need when you board or detrain depends on station facilities and the type of train you are using. All of the stations on the Heartland Flyer's route are ADA compliant, with the exception of Norman, which is currently undergoing temporary renovation.
